OUR DEDICATION

For twenty years, Lawrence J. Bradley was administrator of The Genesee Hospital. He rose from the ranks of nursing to assume a position of foremost responsibility. In his dealings with people, he never lost sight of the needs of all, including the students. It is to this that the student nurses of Genesee are indebted. His forethought, his understanding and his humanity reaped rewards for us all. Through dedication of this yearbook, we wish to acknowledge his achievement.

OUR APPRECIATION

Silent understanding—warm smile—open door
—fellow bridge player—willing listener—glowing personality—an air of informality.

Shower curtain changes—telephone bulletin boards—plumbing in Spiehler—well stocked kitchens—full Coke machines—a mother to us all—a dormitory made a home.

To you, Mrs. Sullivan we wish to express our appreciation.

THE GOLDEN HAZE OF TRAINING DAYS

IS ROUND ABOUT US YET

OUR YEARBOOK ADVISOR

Miss Lorraine Moore

Many trying hours, disputing our indecisions, writing and rewriting, selecting appropriate photos are but a few obstacles her endeavors helped to overcome.

She spoke her mind, demonstrated her thrift and business-like qualities and gave us the needed push when we were down.

Without her guidance, interest, experience and practicality, we do not believe our Genre could have been the success we feel it is this year.

Student Council functions as a cabinet for the Student Government. The members, composed of student-elected officers, along with the residence director, the principal, and a student-elected faculty advisor are designated to transact the general business of Student Government.

Thus, the over-all objective is to allow for adequate communication between the various groups involved in the Student Government and the faculty.

The idea of a student counseling program was initiated last spring by the students. With the guidance of Miss O. Allen, the counselors set forth their goals: to orient students to dormitory life, to provide an outlet for verbalization of problems and to act as a liaison between students and faculty. While now in the beginning stages, we hope to see this idea mature.

THE GENESEE

Here's to our school, the Genesee,
Here's to her faculty;
Here's to the ones who will honor her
Long as their years may be
Here's to her years of fame to come,
Honored above the rest;
Here's to our dear old Genesee,
School we all love the best.

Oh, Genesee, Oh, Genesee,
We never will forget,
The golden haze of training days,
Is round about us yet.
Those days of yore will come no more,
And as the years go by,
On land or sea, where'er we be,
We'll hold thy name most dear;
On land or sea, where'er we be,
We'll hold thy name most dear.
